

James Monroe Foundation

During his presidency, Monroe's greatest triumphs lay in foreign affairs in which, skillfully supported by Adams, he made significant territorial additions and gave American policy a distinctly national flavor. Founded in 1927 by President Monroe's great-great grandson, Laurence Gouverneur Hoes, the James Monroe Foundation is a 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt, non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the life and legacy of James Monroe through a variety of education and preservation programs. For 75 years, the foundation has been the founder, donor and supporter of the James Monroe Museum and Memorial Library at 908 Charles Street in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Established in 2001 at the foundation's 21st Century Planning Conference, the James Monroe Scholarship Award program has given monies to worthy college-bound high school juniors and seniors totaling over $10,000. Winners have gone on to attend Princeton, the College of William & Mary, and other fine schools across the nation.

Announce the

2005 James Monroe Scholarship Award

During his presidency, Monroe's greatest triumphs lay in foreign affairs in which, skillfully supported by Adams, he made significant territorial additions and gave American policy a distinctly national flavor. This year, the James Monroe Foundation offers high school juniors and seniors the opportunity to win one of three scholarship awards by entering our Scholarship Award writing competition. The 2005 topic is:

Man of the World: James Monroe, Diplomat & President

The applying student must be a junior or senior in a public, private or home-school high school program.

The first page of the paper must include the following information: first and last name, title of paper, grade, name of high school, state, phone number, address and e-mail address.

The paper may or may not be an assigned part of a formal class or registered home school assignment.

The paper must be between 1250-1500 words in length.

The paper must be documented appropriately with either footnotes or endnotes and a bibliography.

Any participant under age 18 must have their parent or guardian print, sign and return the JMSA Consent Form located at www.jamesmonroe.org/consent

The paper must be submitted via e-mail as a MS Word attachment to: scholarship@monroefoundation.org

All questions regarding the competition should be directed via e-mail to: scholarship@monroefoundation.org

-SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS-

1st Place $2,500 2nd Place $1,000 3rd Place $500

Send in your submission! Contest concludes March 12, 2005

All submissions must be received electronically by March 12, 2005, to be considered in the competition. Winners will be selected and notified by April 9, 2005. Winning entries will be posted on the scholarship website, www.jamesmonroe.org. Please review the site for information regarding the presentation of scholarship awards.

A panel of distinguished Monroe scholars and specialists will review all submissions for strength of thesis, clarity, research applicability, style, creativity and treatment of the chosen topic. The paper should be reflective, demonstrating hard work, sound judgment, and sensitivity to the complexities of the subject's issues. Additionally, the paper should contain very few errors, none of which serves to undermine the effectiveness of the paper for well-informed readers. All submissions must be original work. Please check www.jamesmonroe.org/rules for additional rules.
